Scenario:
You are a student currently attending USC full time. Since the pandemic you are no longer going to classes in person. Teachers have all decided to use different programs and assign work on different websites. This has started to confuse you and between the synchronous and asynchronous classes you have been starting to miss class and miss assignments. You download Class Notifications in hope that it will bring order to your chaos.

Task 1: Create a new notification, name it your favorite class and put down its time and days of the week.

Task 2: Change the settings, make it so that the app will email you and notify you through your ringer.

Task 3: Edit Math so that it is no longer notifying you on wednesdays.

Notes:
What changes should I make to the app?
      Add a better designed settings feature
      Make a hold to edit feature on the notification hub
      Make a label most important feature for timing multiple assignments together
      Add a bar at the bottom for all of the hubs

What do I need to keep the same about the app?
      Keep the notification adder
      Keep the edit page
      Keep the 3 line drop down box
